artist spotlight SAM RUDD

PAINTING THE FEELING OF PLACE

Sam Rudd is a contemporary British artist whose expressive landscapes and seascapes explore the connection between memory, place and emotion. Combining vibrant colour, energetic mark-making and intuitive gesture, her paintings capture the feeling of a landscape rather than simply depicting it.

With a background in illustration and textile design, Sam has worked with prestigious names including Cath Kidston, Mulberry, Harrods, The Times and The Guardian. Her experience in drawing, pattern and design continues to influence her distinctive approach to painting.

House by the Sea

Inspired by the countryside of rural Cheshire and the coastline of North Wales, Sam begins many works outdoors, filling sketchbooks with observations gathered on walks and travels. Back in the studio, these studies evolve through layers of charcoal, acrylic and oil, as memory and imagination become intertwined with the landscape.

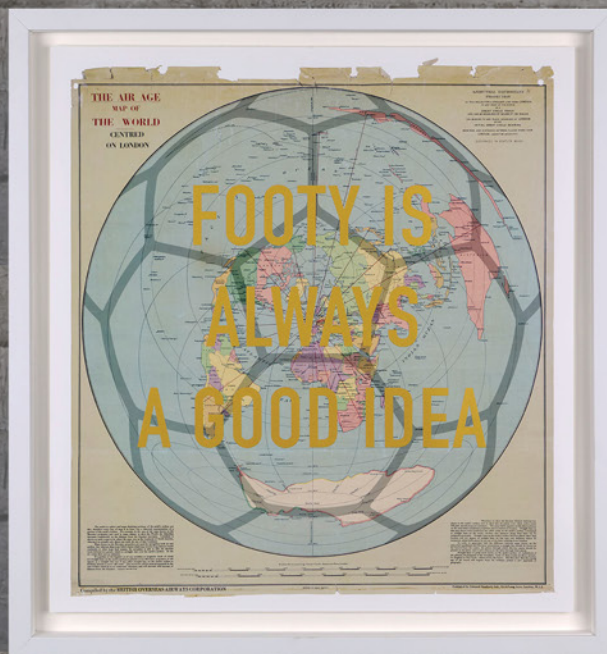

Sam has exhibited across the UK, establishing a growing reputation for her joyful, atmospheric and highly expressive work.
