

The background is a watercolor painting of a vase filled with yellow and white flowers. The vase is dark and textured, with several blue circular accents on its side. The flowers are rendered with soft, blended colors and some darker outlines. The overall composition is centered around a large, textured gold circle that contains the text. The background has a mottled, painterly quality with various colors and textures.

*Returning to my younger self
- early paperworks and unbound joy.
Recalling the depth of who I was.*

Marking the length of time and the winding road of life.

*I marvel at the beginning,
bring it round full circle.*

*Remembering...
While I harken back
To the bone of truth
.....My love of paint.*
