J E F F R E Y P R A T T

Jeffrey Pratt believes passionately that we are here to experiment, to explore who we are, and to have the courage to live bravely, daringly and positively. His gateway to serenity is to paint without distraction; he views himself as a conduit, feeling that each painting is created through him rather than by him, never attempting to simply copy life, but rather to extract its magical essence.

“I have remained passionately loyal to plein air painting, working outside, at one with nature, in the landscape rather than viewing it through a lens or on a screen - and I believe the consequent honesty of the work communicates itself to others.”
