Personal passions are very much in evidence in this vibrant new exhibition from outstanding British artist Lucy Pratt. Embracing landscapes, still life, figurative and abstract works, the collection has a vitality and charm which draws us in and bewitches us with its bold and adventurous combinations of colour. This is underpinned by a gentle sense of humour and a slightly whimsical take on a life which mirrors Lucy's own: brimming with adventure, travel, people and places.

Every piece in the collection resounds with colour, light and sheer joie de vivre. Lucy seeks out the particular joy of a given moment in a way that is both enchanting and infectious and her painterly style has as an immediacy and appeal that has won her considerable acclaim. Yet despite her acknowledged status from the Royal Academy, her impressive array of collectors and her success in Mayfair and beyond, her paintings have the broadest possible appeal – even being used on the front cover of 'Cotswold Homes' Magazine.
