PETER HORVATH

Peter Horvath is a photo-based and New Media artist. Merging street ephemera, movie posters, photographs, ink, acrylic and spray paint, his densely layered assemblage portraits reflect his fascination with media consumption, cultural icons and urban decay. Influenced by the décollage of the 1960s Nouveau Réalistes Mimmo Rotella and Jacques Villeglé, his work focuses on deconstructing and recontextualising imagery through assemblage, drawing from personal and found materials and showing how life has itself become an assemblage of consumer products and cultural reference.
